NERVES WERE UNSTRUNG.

THE ADMINISTRATION SCORED.

MRS. SHORT WAS LEADING A LIFE OF MISERY

Rev. Dr. H. C. Morrison Criticizes Cleveland and His Course.

Full She Used the Great Remedy, Paine's Celery Compound - The Burden of House-keeping Falls Heavily on Mothers.

Some days ago the Rev. Dr. Morrison, Secretary of Missions of the M. E. Church, South, was quoted in The Atlantic Constitution as stating that all over the South there is great dissatisfaction with the Democratic Administration.

The Evening Journal, Secretary Hoke's paper, scored the editorially, and he comes back with a card, in which he reiterates his former statement at length, and adds:

In addition to the fact of a disappointed people, there are three other facts which take a hold, a deep hold, upon the conscience of the people.

First—No man since Washington ever had the influence on National legislation that Mr. Cleveland had in the beginning of his present term of office. This fact the editor of The Journal will doubtless be ready to admit. The people gave him an ovation which was unprecedented and well nigh idolatrous. Opportunity was before him to place his name beside that of the immortal father of his country, and to live in the American heart for all coming time. But the multitudes most interested have waited for words of encouragement until now deferred has made the heart sick.

Second—The trend of that mighty influence has been almost entirely toward such legislation as would make the gold shark richer and the laboring man poorer. That influence has been so wielded as to meet the approbation and never once provoke a criticism from the representatives of the oppressed gold power. They can completely review his whole official course and say: "Well done!"

Third—And the widespread destitution and want among the laboring poor, with 67,000 in his own city dependent upon charity, with 200,000 unemployed men in the United States, whose wives and children speak out from their hollow eyes that consuming hunger which no language can depict, still that mighty influence goes on increasing, such measures as must necessarily increase the powers of the oppressor and decrease the chances of the oppressed. Where is the act performed, the measure enacted, the word uttered to bring hope to the heart of the husband and father among the millions who stand on the verge of little ones ask in hunger for bread? Echo answers: "Where? We do not know!"

The Journal for the noble efforts to exercise and put the best possible coloring upon the sad failure of Cleveland's power and his honored predecessor have had recognition which we all in common appreciate, recognition for true and faithful service to the party. But after all and above all, the measure of the time has been a painful prominence—suffering and disappointed people.

AMERICAN CATHOLICS.

A Man Who Does Not Believe in the Rule of Rome.

When our good Catholic friends understand that the A. P. A. is not opposed to the Catholic religion, but opposes only the placing of Romans in political control of the nation, they will have learned a valuable lesson.

In the midst of all the misrepresentations that have been made, it is pleasing to notice that one individual has a clear conception of the duties of American citizenship.

M. J. Clithan, a Catholic of Jacksonville, Ill., has written the following to The Journal of that city:

As there is much speculation regarding the attitude of the A. P. A. toward the word Americans in large capitals, that "he who runs may read."

Second—If every citizen of this American Republic should be an American first that no nationality or lam of blood should stand in the way of citizenship and allegiance to the Federal Constitution.

Third—I hold and believe that every foreigner that has been naturalized perjure himself whenever he parades under any but the Stars and Stripes, or subscribes directly or indirectly to any declaration of allegiance to any foreign prince, sovereign or potentate.

Fourth—I hold and believe that any citizen of these United States who accepts the title of honor from any prince, sovereign or potentate whatsoever, commits a crime, violates the plain language of our National Constitution. See Article I, Section 9. Unfortunately the execution of this clause is fast becoming obsolete, as here in Illinois W. J. O'Connell of Chicago is today the recipient of a title of honor from a foreign potentate.

Fifth—I hold and believe that as I did in 1868, I am opposed to any division of our School Fund, and all schools of whatsoever name should be under the supervision of the state.

Sixth—I hold and believe that all schools in the United States should be denominational name, whether Lutheran, Presbyterian, Methodist, Episcopal, Catholic or any other denomination, and only tend to draw cred lines, cause distrust, and help to array creed against creed, and to divide the people.

Seventh—I believe that the teaching of any "rad" of a foreign language in our American schools helps to denationalize America, and should be by law suppressed.

Eighth—I hold and believe that the Congress of these United States should enact a law requiring that every schoolhouse, college, seminary, training school and every other place where children are gathered within its walls, and any minister or rector of a church who denied any organization the right to carry on "Glee" within the church should be prosecuted for treason to the National Flag.

Ninth—I hold and believe that the National Congress should enact laws to incorporate organizations, and the college, seminaries, academies and schools under their denominational names, and should be under the control and supervision of the state and city governments, I am heartily in favor of the taxation of all church property.

House-keeping is growing less simple and more complex each year. A home that professes to be well regulated today is far more difficult to manage than was the same kind of a home fifty or sixty years ago.

Upon the women falls the burden. Many work themselves into nervous exhaustion. Many mothers grow so irritable that they feel at all times half guilty, fearing that their disease—for it is a disease—

WHAT THEY DID.

THAT IS THE HONORABLE CITY COUNCIL LAST NIGHT.

Judge Wadsworth Makes Some Excellent Suggestions Regarding New Laws, & A Big Lot of Orders Issued.

City Council met last night in regular session, and in spite of the pleasant evening all the members were present at roll call except Mr. Pearce.

The meeting was called to order at 7:30, a half hour later than the regular meetings of the winter.

Reports of the various committees and city officers were read and received by Council.

The report of City Treasurer Fitzgerald showed the receipts of his office during the first month to be $2,606.86, while the balance in his hands at the beginning of the month was $1,289.40, making a total of $3,896.26. The expenses were $6,000.71, leaving a balance of only $995.55 in the Treasury. The expenditures were as follows:

Aims and Almshouse	$3,362.63
Boarding and guarding	33.50
Gas and electricity	432.35
Internal improvements	433.98
Police	30.00
Salaries	275.00
Sundries	183.23
Coupons	342.42
School Fund	3,062.50
School Fund	1,065.00
Total	$6,000.71

The report of Police Judge Wadsworth showed that during the last month $225 had been assessed in fines, which amount $63 had been paid into the School Fund.

On concluding his report he adds: Supplementing this report, I feel it my duty as the chief judicial officer of the city to solicit the attention of the honorable Board of Council to the imperfect state and condition of our municipal laws and ordinances.

Many of the ordinances which were in effect some twenty years ago, while still upon the code of ordinances and laws of the city, are now inoperative, obsolete and useless and should be repealed by act of Council. While many such municipal statutes, which are valid and in effect at this time, are to be found only by reference to the clipping of the newspapers running back some eight or ten years.

The business of the Police Court and its officers, as well as that of the legislative department of the city, seem to demand a re-codifying of the city laws in order to conduct with some degree of facility the serious duties with which they are delegated, and I should feel that I am not fairly and faithfully discharging the responsibilities of my position if I failed to urge this matter upon the attention of your honorable body.

After the reports had been received the regular routine of business was begun and kept up until 10 o'clock.

The business done is best told in paragraphs: The coffee-house license of John Dersch was ordered transferred to Henry F. Otto.

Permits were granted for building to Williams, Wills, Opper Dodson, W. B. Dawson, T. P. Opper, Dawson Bros., J. Trisler, B. F. Williams and Mrs. Mary Hetlin.

C. F. Taylor was granted auctioneer's license.

The Law and Ordinance Committee was ordered to prepare an ordinance regarding the blocking of streets by railroad cars. This is especially meant for the C. and O. Railroad in the Fifth and Sixth Wids.

The property owners on Second street East of Wood were ordered to put down brick stone or gravel walks in front of their premises.

Then the C. and O. Railroad was got after again and their contract with the city will be looked up. In that the road agreed to furnish a flagman at the corner of Commerce and Lexington streets, but as yet they have failed to do it, and now the city is going to see what is the matter.

An ordinance regarding cruelty to animals was read for the first time. The city finances are again getting low, and bonds Nos. 5 and 6 were ordered to be sold.

After an argument on the propriety of applying the city with police registers the meeting adjourned.

The many friends of M. R. Gilmore will be glad to know that he is improving under his treatment at Hot Springs, Va.

He is a man of excellent traits and fine sense which he has proven by having secured a lovely little cottage in which he will go to housekeeping at once. He has money in bank, a lovely wife and a host of friends who all join in congratulations.

The Alum Springs Hotel, near Danville, burned, with a loss of $10,000.

LEZZIE BANION, a colored lady, was given a fine of $5, and costs for being drunk and disorderly. Just a slight token of regard.

NOT THE RAILROADS.

But Another Little Moore Who Was Recently Married.

The report of W. D. Moore, C. and O. brakeman, being married in wholly unbecomingly to a loss to know how it was reported.

The above note, written on an elegant piece of gilt-edged paper, was handed to a reporter yesterday.

In justice to Mr. Moore and to his friends who will state that the mention made recently was not of W. D. Moore, but of William Moore. There was no "D" in the name of the man who secured marriage license.

The gentleman who cast his lot other who was from the Sardis neighborhood and not a railroad.

No, girls, W. D. Moore, the C. and O. brakeman, is not married; at least did not mean him in last Saturday's LEADER.

THE WILL SUSTAINED.

The Jury in the Brannel Will Case Soon Finish Their Work.

The Brannel will case was very promptly decided yesterday in the Circuit Court after it had been given to the jury.

As stated in THE LEADER the arguments were finished Wednesday and all that was done yesterday morning was the giving of the instructions by Judge Harbison.

The jury was out about fifteen minutes when they returned with a verdict sustaining the will.

While the verdict was a surprise to many, no one who heard the testimony was or could be surprised, and no evidence of importance was introduced to prove that Mr. Brannel was not in his right mind at the time of making the will.

It is understood that no appeal will be made to any higher court.

A YOUNG THIEF.

Arrested With a Pocket Full of Nice Cheesing Gum.

Jack Shepard, a young Cotton Mill lad, about 14 years of age, who lives on Short street, was arrested last evening by Officer Stockdale.

The little fellow had made his way into the grocery of Allen Dodson at the corner of Second and Wall streets, and had his pockets filled with chewing gum when captured.

He had crept in behind the counter while the members of the store were in the rear and was taking all in sight when captured.

The little fellow is a very bright looking and when Officer Stockdale arrested him he gave three different names before he gave his right one. He is the same lad who stole a quantity of handkerchiefs at Hechtler's some time ago.

When he was brought into the Police Court room several members of the Council were present and Mr. Lane, after talking with the unfortunate little fellow, requested his release, and the boy, with tears in his eyes, promised he would never steal anything again.

Senator Mills Leaves the Senate Finance Committee.

The Bill Has Now Been in the Hands of the Senate for a Month.

The Friends of the Measure Are Hoping For Its Ultimate Passage in Some Form, But in What Shape No One Knows.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The tariff bill is now laboring in another period of peril which has been so often experienced in the past. The bill has now been in the hands of the Senate for a month. The friends of the bill are now hoping for its ultimate passage in some form, but in what form no living man in Washington has any real for the bill as a prospect will not venture to predict. Not one of the democratic members of the committee who have begun a series of daily sessions, which Mr. Mills predicted will end next Tuesday, can outline with any pretense to accuracy what the most important provisions of the bill will be when reported to the Senate.

The tariff bill has now been in the possession of the Senate, or at least of the Finance Committee, for the month of February. What the democratic members of the Finance Committee are now trying to accomplish is precisely the same task which they tried to accomplish in the month of January. They are now trying to accomplish the same task which they tried to accomplish in the month of January. They are now trying to accomplish the same task which they tried to accomplish in the month of January.

Thursday they entered upon this task, holding a session which lasted almost without interruption, from 10 o'clock Thursday morning until late in the afternoon. In the morning the committee intended to consider the bill, but it was postponed until 10 o'clock Thursday morning until late in the afternoon. The republicans are preparing to oppose the bill. The republicans are preparing to oppose the bill. The republicans are preparing to oppose the bill. The republicans are preparing to oppose the bill. The republicans are preparing to oppose the bill.
